

TEN

The best Michelin-rated restaurant deliveries across London

Before lockdown, our Dining team would secure hundreds of reservations at London's Michelin-rated restaurants on behalf of our members each week and we know many of you will be missing the world-class cooking and refined experience. Thankfully, many of the top dining spots have been quick to adapt and are now whizzing Michelin-quality deliveries across the capital every day. Discover our favourites below.

Please note: this information is correct as of Wednesday 10 June and is subject to change. Delivery is limited to certain London postcodes.

Michelin-starred restaurants

Hide at Home

Members who have dined at the Michelin-starred Hide Ground and Hide Above will be very familiar with the groundbreaking cooking of Ollie Dabbous. Whether it's 50-day-aged short-horn beef rib cooked over charcoal or roast scallops with Jerusalem artichoke and black truffle, they are providing incredible dishes delivered to your door. You can even order their famous viennoiseries for breakfast.

Order via a lifestyle manager or SUPPER app

Hakkasan Mayfair

The Michelin-starred Mayfair institution has elevated the Chinese takeaway to a whole new level during this period. Enjoy their grilled Chilean sea bass in honey and crispy duck salad in the comfort of your home.

Order via Deliveroo or click and collect

Gymkhana

Michelin-starred Gymkhana now offers delivery, serving favourites such as its tandoori masala lamb chops, butter chicken masala and wild muntjac biryani. A bespoke feast menu for two has been curated, and its four courses include the likes of gol guppas and aloo papri chaat, and kid goat methi keema.

Order via SUPPER app

Claude Bosi Oyster Bar at Bibendum

From Thursday-Sunday, you can now order a three-course lunch or dinner from the legendary restaurant. The menu is accompanied by a well-priced wine list, too.

See the menu here and call 020 7589 1480 to place your order. Collection only available between 11.30am and 6pm.

Quilon

Expect an exquisite range of fresh dishes, perfectly balanced and bursting with the flavours of south India. Seafood is central to the menu and the Kovalam fish curry and halibut baked in Malabar spices should be on every order. They are delivering within a four-mile radius of the restaurant in Victoria, or collection is available.

Order online, via email (dine@quilon.co.uk), call +44 20 7370 4040, or text 07525 616 892.

Bib Gourmand restaurants

Chosen by Michelin for the great value and excellent food, Bib Gourmand is the highest accolade given by the restaurant guide other than its famous stars. There are 35 Bib Gourmand restaurants in London – these are our favourites now doing delivery:

Plaquemine Lock

Anything from Jacob Kenedy of Bocca di Lupo fame is bound to be good, but members in Islington and the surrounding area really have lucked out. Order a shrimp jambalaya with a side of cracklins – chunks of Cajun-spiced crispy pork belly.

Order via Deliveroo

Farang

With the aim of bringing modern Thai street food to London, head chef Seb Holmes and chef Dan Turner have opened Farang Larder to bring you a range of Thai recipe kits and ready meals, as well as Thai groceries, snacks and sweets and a selection of beer and wine.

Discover more here and email reservations@faranglondon.co.uk with your order, name and phone number. The team will then phone you back to take payment and allocate you the most convenient time slot on their next collection date.

Smokestack

Quite simply the best barbecue restaurant in London. The Saturday offering includes meat by the 100g, sides by the pint and sticky toffee pudding if you still have room. Cut-off time for pre-orders is 8am on the day of delivery.

Order here - £5 delivery fee to postcodes E1, E2, E3, E8, E9, E14, E1W, EC1, EC2, EC3, N1 and N16.

Gunpowder

The menu features a unique take on traditional family recipes, exploring Indian home cooking with the likes of Punjabi saag and aloo, Kashmiri lamb curry, Malabar chicken wings and much more.

Order via Deliveroo

Kateh

Located on the banks of Regent's Canal, this Persian restaurant is a popular choice among Maida Vale residents. The delivery menu features contemporary cuisine based on the best available produce of the day: expect well-executed dishes such as saffron-marinated chargrilled free-range baby chicken with saffron rice, and chargrilled fillet of halibut with asparagus, courgettes and extra-virgin olive oil.

Order via Uber Eats

Michelin Plate restaurants

If a restaurant is awarded a Michelin Plate, it shows that the inspectors regard it high enough to feature in the hallowed guide. Here are some of the best now doing delivery:

Orasay

Jackson Boxer is producing some of the best food available in London via delivery right now and it was recently recommended by The Sunday Times food critic Marina O'Loughlin. Note that you may need to finish off some of the cooking in your kitchen.

Order online via Slerp

Indian Zing

One of our member favourites and particularly relevant to residents of Chiswick and Hammersmith. The ghatti lamb is a concierge favourite.

More information

Brigadiers

Brigadiers has reopened its kitchen to bring Indian BBQ classics to homes across London. The menu features the return of the Brigadiers original BBQ butter chicken wings, and the Brigadiers mixed grill, while fresh Indian mangoes will be available for dessert.

Order via Deliveroo

Bocca di Lupo

A focus on rustic, authentic and regional Italian cooking has made Jacob Kenedy's restaurant in the heart of Soho very popular. Many of the signature dishes are now available for delivery and require simple cooking at home. Each main dish has been paired with a great value wine, too. Delivery to N, NW, W, WC, TW1-14, KT1-3, SW, SE, E and EC postcodes costs £4.50, or is free when spending more than £50.

Check out the menu and order here

Cambio de Tercio

Dominating Old Brompton Road with four venues, this restaurant group serves some of the best modern Spanish cuisine in London and has now launched a delivery menu. Dubbed Paellaroo, residents of Kensington and Chelsea can enjoy authentic paella and tapas at home, as well as an impressive range of Spanish wines.

Order here

Nobu London

After a lot of anticipation, the Old Park Lane favourite finally joined the delivery game and you can now have dishes like black cod miso, lobster sautéed in wasabi and impeccable sushi delivered directly to your door.

Order via Deliveroo